Rancho Dominguez, CA – Sew What? Inc., a leading provider of theatrical fabrics and supplies has announced the formation of Rent What? Inc. Rent What? specializes in the rental of theatrical draperies, stage backdrops and event supplies for live entertainment and business venues.

Rent What? gives customers the means to rent the same high-quality products that are also available through Sew What?. According to the Rent What? mission statement, “Our goal is to simplify the rental of soft goods. We understand that there are many elements that go into a successful production. We handle the drapes.”

A passion for the business is what drives partners Megan Duckett of Sew What? Inc., and Marce Forrester of Rent What?. “We listened to what our clients wanted - an easy, no nonsense company that provides the rental services they need. And that is just what Rent What? does!”

Many past and present Sew What? clients are already making use of Rent What? services. They say, “This is how renting is done. No mountains of paper work or headaches, just extreme service!”

Established in 1992, Sew What? Inc. provides everything from massive 3-D fabric sets for rock concerts to grand front curtains for world-class auditoriums. Sew What? boasts a clientele of big names in the music industry such as: Dave Matthews Band, Sting, Madonna, Slip Knot, Maroon 5 and Fleetwood Mac. Sew What? has also supplied custom fabrics for special events including Gucci's fashion show, a Lexus car launch, and Universal Music's post Grammy party.
